

Commander's Commentary: Fiscal Restraints

By Brig. Gen. Eric S. Overturf

In the post-holiday, pre-tax season money is always a major concern. For most of us, it becomes an even greater concern when rumors are flying through the news about budget cuts, sequestration and civilian furloughs. Here at the military unit level, we've been on a financial roller coaster over the last few years as a result of the multiple continuing resolutions that have replaced the annual budget we're supposed to get at the beginning of each fiscal year. We've had to reschedule one of our drill weekends until after the current continuing resolution expires on March 27, and we will be watching the news over the next few weeks to see how our elected officials handle the impending sequestration cuts.
